

Learn how to use Assima's Rapid Content Development Suite

This 2-day course provides a thorough foundation for those designing e-learning content with Assima Atlantic Link (AAL). This practical training session leads you through the key features and functionality of the product to create and publish interactive and engaging learning materials.

You will learn about

- AAL Content Point & Capture Point
- Authoring best practice
- Creating training packages
- Multimedia content creation
- Capturing simulation sequences
- Quizzes and evaluations
- Learner progress tracking
- Collaborative development

Course topics

- Navigating the work environment
- Course structure
- Building course slides
- Text, graphics, sound & video
- Assessments, glossaries & feedback forms
- Importing PowerPoints
- Tips for effective simulations
- Support documentation
- Quiz designs & scoring
- Publishing options

Course details

Duration: 2 days

Type: Classroom

Prerequisites: None

Benefits of attending

Learn how to use the industry's highly acclaimed tool to create interactive, multimedia e-learning content to support training projects.

Who should attend

This course is targeted at e-learning designers and is suitable for those who may or may not have previous experience of any rapid e-learning development tools. Assima partners and team managers will also benefit from this course which covers core product features and functionality.